NORVAL TO OPEN NEW EAT SHOP

Hofeller and Hiatt Lease New Main-st Quarters

BAKERY WILL BE MOVED

Business Property Transactions Assume Busy Air

Changes in Main-st leases whereby two business places will change locations and a new coffee shop will be established were announced Wednesday.

A modern coffee shop costing approximately $25,000 will be established by the Hotel Norval in the rooms now occupied by Hofeller and Hiatt, Harry Friedman announced

An innovation for this city and for this part of the state is planned by the Norval management. Several of the more successful and modern establishments are being visited and the architects will design an exceptionally fine coffee shop for Lima, he said.

Plans call for the coffee shop to be open from 6 a. m. to 1 a. m. and special attention will be given to business men and to the evening and after-theatre diners, Friedman said. It will be operated in connection with the hotel kitchens and will provide both table and counter service.

NEW ROOMS

Hofeller and Hiatt, haberdashers, will occupy the rooms now used by the New System bakers just across Main-st. A five year lease has been obtained on the property and approximately $5,000 will be spent in making the room one of the finest haberdashery stores in northwestern Ohio, it is announced.

Arrangements have been made by the owners of the New System bakery to move their establishment to the High-st Market. The bakery proper will be screened off by glass partitions and its workings will be visible to patrons as at present. No change will be made in the policy of the company.

The bakery expects to move about Nov 1 and Hofeller and Hiatt will take possession of their new quarters as soon as remodeling is completed. Equipment for the coffee shop will be completed and be ready for installation as soon as the room is vacant. Preliminary plans call for the opening Jan 5, it was announced.

FLIERS DELAYED BY GALE

Americans Are Ready for Hop off to Greenland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — (By Associated Press) — The American round-the-world fliers had made all preparation to start this morning on their long hazardous hop to Fredericksdal, near Cape Farewell, east Greenland, but unfavorable weather conditions again forced them to abandon their intention. A gale delayed the arrival here of the United States Crusier Richmond which is bringing spare parts with which the two machines can be repaired

* * *

ABOARD U S S RICHMOND —(By Wireless to Associated Press) — The Richmond, returning to Iceland because of the accidents to the planes of the American world fliers in their attempted takeoff for Greenland Monday, is due to reach Reykjavik tomorrow morning.

The Richmond has on board spare parts with which the machines can be repaired.

When the aviators start from Reykjavik the cruiser Raleigh will be stationed off Cape Farewell, the southern tip of Greenland, the destroyers Barry, Billingsley and Reid will be stationed toward Iceland and the Richmond will see the planes off at Reykjavik. The vessels have been ordered to take up their respective stations tomorrow morning

Immediately after the flight to Fredericksdal is completed Lieutenant Leigh Wade, who lost his plane between the Orkneys and Iceland, will be transferred to the Barry and with his mechanician, Sergeant Ogden, proceed to Pictou, N S., to take over the new plane which is to be provided for him there and in which he will resume the flight with his companions.

JOHN DAVISON DIES SUDDENLY

M'COY INDICTED ON CHARGE OF KILLING WOMAN

Ex-Pugilist Also Accused of Robbery and Assault by Grand Jury—Brainstorm Is Declared Sham By the District Attorney

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — (By United Press) — With a formal murder charge hanging over his head, Kid McCoy, middleweight fighter of two decades ago, came thru the night without a fresh outbreak of the "brainstorm" which gripped him yesterday.

A grand jury indictment voted yesterday, charging McCoy with the murder of Mrs. Theresa Mors, his "ninth great love", with robbery on four counts and with assault to commit murder on three counts, failed to arouse within the "Kid" any new frenzy of excitement.

He spent a quiet night in his cell in the county jail and apparently slept soundly, jailers reported.

A third examination of the mental condition of McCoy was ordered today.

BELIEVED SHAMMING

District Attorney Keyes, believes the "Kid" is shamming and said today "McCoy is merely displaying some of his histrionic ability, accumulated in the movies" but I think he overplayed his role when he began cutting out paper dolls."

Besides the one charging murder, indictments were returned late yesterday, charging McCoy with assault with intent to commit murder and with robbery. He is accused of trying to kill W. G. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schapp, all of whom he wounded when he went on a shooting rampage in the shop of the woman he is alleged to have killed.

The robbery charges accuse him of taking $40 from Ross, besides a total of $229 and a $60 watch from three other persons who were in the shop.

18 WITNESSES TESTIFY

LOS ANGELES — (By Associated Press) — Kid McCoy, the boxing beau brummel, who 20 years ago strode into a Los Angeles hotel boasting eighty suits of clothes besides the fighting trunks in which he was to make his first ring appearance here, today slouched on a cot in the county jail, a fifty-one year old former pugilist, broke, dejected, awaiting trial on indictments charging him with murder, robbery and assault with intent to murder.

Nineteen witnesses told the grand jury yesterday how the body of Mrs. Theresa Mors, dead with a bullet wound in her head, was found early Wednesday in the apartment she and McCoy had occupied; how a few hours later the Kid burst into the More antique shop in the fashionable Westlake shopping district, held up four men and slightly wounded two men and a woman.

District Attorney Asa Keyes said after the indictments had been returned that he expected to go on trial with the murder case within a month, taking personal charge and "using every legal and fair means to secure a conviction."

Meanwhile McCoy's attorneys have begun to lay the ground work for an insanity defense.

INCREASE IN ACREAGE OF WHEAT FORECAST

COLUMBUS — Ohio's wheat acreage this fall will be four per cent greater than that of last year, if farmers carry out their intentions expressed to C. J. West, state-federal agricultural agricultural crop statistician, he said today.

Comment accompanying reports to field agents, according to West, farmers give as their reasons for planting more wheat the increased grain price, and the failure to plant all their corn ground last spring.

In some counties there was a decrease in sowing last fall so that many fields have been in corn for two consecutive years and the farmers now desire to restore the rotation with wheat.

DEATH OF BOYS DEMANDED

State Sums up in Leopold, Loeb Murder Case

DEFENDANTS ARE UNMOVED

Hanging Phrase Not Noticed by the Slayers

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Two of the three high crimes for which Illinois provides the death penalty—murder, rape and kidnaping—were committed by Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb in a manner justifying nothing less than death on the gallows, Thomas Marshall, assistant state's attorney, told Judge John R. Caverly today.

He urged the extreme penalty in an argument based upon the phraseology of the Illinois laws and the formal charges connected with the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks to which the defendants have pleaded guilty.

Judge Caverly opened a book of law and followed the text as Marshall read the phrases defining murder and kidnaping as capital crimes in this state. The phrase "shall suffer the penalty of death" was always brought out in a voice raised in tone and emphatic in its deliberateness.

PRISONERS UNMOVED

The defendants gave no visible signs that the phrase "death penalty" had been heard by them They seemed more interested in the notes being made by Clarence S. Darrow and his associate counsel for the defense.

The attorney ridiculed the defense attempt to show mitigation of punishment by the testimony of mental experts

"No philosophy is an excuse for crime," was Mr. Marshall's text on that point and he worked it out by drawing parallels between Leopold's and Loeb's belief in their own powers and the philosophies of anarchists, communists and Mormons who were convicted of violating the law despite reliance upon their beliefs as justification for their acts.

The long legal battle in which the state demands death and the defense imprisonment as the penalty for Leopold and Loeb, today had reached the final argument.

Pursuing the same objective as it did in its testimony, the prosecution in its opening salvo of oratory has declared that only the gallows could expiate the crime to which the youths, millionaires' sons and university graduate students, have pleaded guilty. For the next two days state's attorneys will reiterate the demand in their arguments.

Mitigation of punishment which thruout has been the plea of the defense, based on a theory of mental sickness caused by functional disorders of the endocrine glands, childish phantasies and deficient emotions will be argued by Walter

EXPERTS TO PROBE RATE NEEDS HERE

State Men Arrive in Lima for Inspection

RESULTS EXPECTED SOON

Report Will Determine Action by Commission

Official checking up of the facilities and the balance sheets of the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Co. was started Wednesday by experts from the state public utilities commission, C. A. Bingham, city manager, announced.

These experts are here as the result of a letter sent by the city to the commission asking whether an investigation could not be made without the necessity of a protest and a consequent revaluation of the property.

Reports from the experts are expected later in the week and upon the result of their findings will depend the course to be taken by the city, Bingham said.

MAY APPROVE.

If it appears that the new schedule as proposed by the company are fair and not excessive, the city will probably approve of the increases asked and withhold opposition.

On the other hand, Bingham said, if the report is not satisfactory the commission will probably enter a protest and fight increases to the last ditch.

Officials of the telephone company announced Wednesday that they are assisting the experts in every way. It will probably take most of this week to complete the work.

Official report will probably be transmitted to the commission in time for its consideration next monday night, Bingham said.

WOMAN BEATEN, MAN SHOT

Both Are Alleged Victims of Jealous Husband

DAYTON—By Associated Press—The victim of an enraged husband, Alva Chaney, 38, of Hartford City, Indiana, was suffering from two bullet wounds today. He is in Miami Valley hospital here.

Malcolm D. Fiescher, 30, of Osborn, O., the husband is in the Greene-co jail at Zenia. Mrs. Fiescher, also wounded, is also under the care of a physician in her home in Osborn.

Marshal Schneider, investigating the case, learned, he said, that Fiescher was jealous of Chaney, suspecting he ws trying to win his wife from him.

Returning home last night from Wright Air Field, where he is employed as night foreman, Fiescher is said to have surprised his wife and Chaney.

He quarreled with Chaney, shooting him twice. Then he seized the gun and struck Mrs. Fiescher over the head, severely injuring her, according to the marshal.

DEATH IS CAUSED BY POISONING

Blood Affected When Finger is Pricked by Thorn

HEART ALSO WEAKENED

Attempts to Save Noted Man's Life Prove Unavailing

Professor John Davison, 66, 734 W. Market-st, for 50 years a school teacher in Lima and vicinity, and for the past nine years dean of the College of Education at Ohio Northern University, died suddenly following an attack of heart trouble with which he was stricken while on the lecture platform at Greenville, at 6 p. m. Tuesday.

Tho he had been in failing health for some months, medical men are of the opinion that the attack would not have been fatal had it not been for a prolonged illness from blood poisoning from which the professor has been suffering and which weakened his vitality.

About two months ago Professor Davison responded to a request to lecture during some school activity in Greenville. Following the lecture, he was receiving numerous congratulations on what had been a brilliant speech and a high school girl pinned a rose in his button hole.

FINGER INJURED.

While absentmindedly fingering the rose a few hours later he pricked his finger on one of its thorns. Blood poisoning set in and during the past few weeks weakened his vitality to such an extent that he was unable to withstand the heart attack.

After lecturing before the Darke-co Teachers' Institute at Greenville Tuesday morning, the professor rested during the afternoon, and took the platform again about 5:30 p. m. to deliver another talk. After talking for half an hour he was stricken at 6 p m. while on the platform, and was taken to a physician's office Death came soon after.

Professor Davison taught in the Lima public schools for twenty years, and for ten years, from 1905 to 1915, was superintendent of schools In 1915 he accepted a call to Ohio Northern University, at Ada, and for the past nine years was dean of the College of Education at the university.

During his term of office as superintendent of schools here, Professor Davison was instrumental in causing the erection of practically all of the ward grade schools. The buildings were erected shortly after he took office and about a year later, he moved the classes from rented rooms in which they were being held to the newly erected buildings

John Davison was born at West Newton, O. on July 22, 1858. He was a son of Amaziah and Eliza Nye Davison. He received his early education in the country schools of Allen-co. and later attended Ohio Northern University.

He holds degrees of Bachelor of Science, Master of Science, and honorary degrees of Doctor of Pedagogy and Master of Literature, all of which he received at Ohio Northern

EARLY START

He obtained his first teaching certificate at the age of 16, and was assigned a country school near West Newton Several years later he was made superintendent of schools at the village of Elida For five years, from 1905 to 1915, he was a professor at Lima College.

Professor Davison was the author of "Outlines in American Literature," and "Outline in Eng-

DRIVER BLAMED FOR CRASH

Probers Report on Oak Harbor Crossing Wreck

TEN KILLED, MANY INJURED

Accident Came as Climax to Picnic in Seneca-co

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — W. E. Spangler of Willard, driver of the truck and himself a victim of the crash, receives full blame for the Oak Harbor grade crossing accident of July 23, in which ten persons were killed and several injured, in the report of investigators for the Ohio public utilities made public here today.

Spangler apparently did not look down the track to the east before he attempted to cross or he would have seen the westbound New York Central passenger train approaching, the report says.

The accident came as a climax to a picnic of Seneca-co school children on Lake Erie. The report of the inspectors follows in part

"The accident occurred at about 6 45 It was a clear day —sun shining An automobile driven by one, George Lepard, of near Attica, Ohio, had preceded the truck, crossing over ahead of Number 640 and stopping about 125 feet south of railroad

"Crossing is protected by four sets of lights and two gongs, located at both the north and south approaches of crossing, same being operated by track circuit cutting in and operating continuously as long as train is in circuit, cutting out immediately as rear end of train passes crossing.

YELLED AT DRIVER

"Mr George Leopard stated that when he stopped his automobile, he observed Number 87 coming and that he did not take time to stop his engine, but jumping out of his car, ran as fast as he could towards the truck yelling and waving his arms to get the driver of the truck to stop, but failed, as the truck driver evidently did not see him

"Mrs. Ida H Lepard, mother of George and Clarence, stated to us that her son did all he ouid to attract the driver's attention to the approach of this fast train, west bound

"All the eye-witnesses that we interviewed admit that the warning bells at crossing were ringing and most of the witnesses state that lights were flashing as they approached the crossing from the north We were unable to find any person who resides near the crossing to admit that the warning bells were ever out of order prior to this accident

"The truck had a rack enclosure four feet high around the body and camp chairs were used for seats for the passengers Mrs Vern Cook and Viola Cronninger, a child ten years old, were seated in the cab with the driver; the child was sitting on Mrs Cook's lap

"From statements of eye witnesses, we cannot say whether or not the driver of the truck saw this train and stalled his engine as he reached the westbound testimony on this point conflicts

"We are unable to state the length of time this truck was standing north of tracks or the length of time that driver stood north of tracks after he had viewed the crossing before train Number 640 left the depot."

"STOP" LAW ENFORCED BY POLICE

45 Motorists Face Court; Others to Be Brought in

FINES ARE SUSPENDED

Costs of $3.90 Each Are Assessed However

War which was declared Monday by City Manager Bingham and Chief of Police Lanker against violators of the new main thorofare stop ordinance, was opened Tuesday with the result that 72 motorists were ordered to appear in police court Wednesday morning.

Only 45 of this number appeared, all of whom pleaded guilty and were assessed fines of $5 and costs each. All fines were suspended but the costs, which amounted to $3.90 in each case, were paid.

Warrants for 27 violators who failed to appear Wednesday morning will be made out Wednesday afternoon and arrests will follow Thursday morning. Stiff fines will probably follow in each case where the court order was ignored.

Each violator was arraigned separately Wednesday morning, and each drew a severe reprimand from Police Judge Ben Motter before the fine was assessed.

"It's no use wasting words in this matter," he said. "The whole thing in a nutshell is that stop means 'stop' and not 'slow down.' This is your first offense and I'm suspending the fine. If you're brought in here another time it'll cost you plenty.

The city's 20 new "plain-clothes" traffic policemen were on the job again Wednesday, and it is probable that the court-room will be jammed to the doors again Thursday morning when the traffic session opens.

Following are the offenders who appeared in court Wednesday morning:

VEGETATION DISCOVERED ON PLANET MARS

By WAGNER WHITE

LOWELL OBSERVATORY, FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. —(By United Press) — Tremendous growth in two dark areas near the equator of Mars that a month ago were comparatively faint, was noted in last night's observations at Lowell Observatory.

The regions have been on the back of the planet until the last few days and therefore were not observed in their entirety, but last night they swung into a wider view and presented graphic evidence of the expansion in them that has taken place since the spring season began in the Martian southern hemisphere.

Glowing a faint blue-green, in spite of shimmering atmospheric conditions which temporarily hamper observations, they suggested what the Lowell school of Martian astronomers believe it possible to be expanse of vegetation.

Off-hand estimates showed their combined areas to be more than 100,000 square miles. They averaged about 370 miles across and reached nearly three-fourths of the way across the disk of the planet. Scientifically the regions are known as "mare sirenum" and "mare cimerum" the name "mare" Latin for sea, was applied before it was discovered that Mars has no seas or oceans

Reduction to more understandable forms, the combined areas cover more than 700,000,000 acres. This would raise more than 21,000,000,000 bushels of wheat, even if the crops were bad

This is only a fantastic illustration, however, as no one knows what form of vegetation Mars, if there is any vegetation, has taken in the process of evolution thru the ages.

Since first noted this year, the tilting of the planet on its axis has brought these regions more directly under the rays of the sun, the declination of position of the sun south of the planet's equator having increased from about 14 1-2 to 23 and three-fourths degrees On the earth this action brings about seasonal change, causing the growth of vegetation and melting to a certain extent of Polar snowcaps.

It is believed at Lowell observatory that this probably is what is taking place in Mars, for, in addition to the apparent growth of the "vegetat" regions, the southern polar snow cap is slowly but surely disappearing as the sun's ray beats upon it across 138,000,000 miles of space.

RADICALISM ATTACKED BY CHARLES G. DAWE

NOMINEE HEARD BY BIG CROWD

Coolidge Running Mate Delivers Acceptance Speech

HITS LAFOLLETTE, BRYAN

G. O. P. Held Out as Progressive, Conservative

CHICAGO—(By United Press)—Acting as the spearhead of the Republican battle lines in the northwest, Charles G Dawes, Republican nominee for vice-president, has intitiated a vigorous attack on Senator Robert M LaFollette, candidate for president on the independent ticket, and on Governor Charles W Bryan, vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket Dawes branded them as "radicals" He attacked LaFollette for attempting to tamper with the constitution.

In his speech accepting the nomination, delivered last night on the broad grounds of the Dawes mansion in Evanston, Chicago suburb, Dawes dealt with only a few issues, devoting himself largely to an assault on LaFollette and on the "one radical candidate on the Democratic ticket"

"Robert M. LaFollette leading the army of extreme radicalism, has a platform, demanding public ownership of railroads and attacking our courts, which are a fundamental and constitutional safeguard of American citizenship," Dawes said

"Our nation is asked to leave important constitutional moorings to embark again into these contests thru which it has fought up to the establishment of good government. Thru the war of the revolution, thru the Civil war and thru the World war, our people have struggled to maintain our constitutional principles. They are asked to follow into an attack upon them, massed behind an aggressive personality, a heterogeneous collection of those opposing the existing order of things, the greatest section of which, the socialists, flies the red flag, and into what? Into confusion and conflict of ideas and ideals and into the reopening of war upon these fundamental principles of human liberty and the inalienable rights of men who are given in this country safety and opportunity to the humblest and to establish which the blood of our forefathers was shed. This is the predominant issue in this campaign."

G. O. P. POSITION

Characterizing the Republican party as the "party of progressive conservativism," Dawes said:

"Lying between these two armies of progressive conservatism and radicalism, which are properly aligned upon this issue in the minds and conscience of the American people, is interposed the Democratic party, with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue.

"In this situation for which the American people alone are responsible, the Democratic party, as a party, instead of recruiting itself from the two battle lines will suffer only the fate which befalls those who try to straddle in a real fight."

Dawes said that the Republican party, under the leadership of President Coolidge, has taken its stand firmly for the constitution

"Opposed to it, and in reality its chief opponent, tho the result may be a deadlock of the contest for the presidency and make Bryanism succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of untried and dangerous radicalism," Dawes declared.

"With a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften as much as possible the apprehension as to what the movement really means, an attempt is made to induce those who are patriotic of heart, but discontented with existing conditions, to join with the Socialists and other diverse elements opposing the existing order of things, in a mobilization of extreme radicalism. A man is known by the company he keeps"

Dawes then called attention to the endorsement of LaFollette party.

On August 29, Dawes will invade the home territory of Governor Bryan with a speech in Lincoln, Neb There, he will discuss the non-partisan and economic agricultural question, which he said is of much vital importance to the national welfare that he could not discuss it here and give it the full consideration it demands

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Discussing the league of nations, Dawes pointed to the enormous Republican majority in 1920 as a conclusive mandate of the American people against membership However, he pointed out that

The league of nations however noble may have been its intentions, was not approved by the people of the United States because it did not make clear to their minds that it did not encroach upon the sovereignty and the power and right of independent decision of the United States as to this stamped the plan as one der all circumstances

"While many men, after study, believed that the league of nations did not encroach upon the sovereignty and right of independent decision by the United States, the fact that there was just doubt a sto this stamped the plan as one which could not be accepted by the citizens of the United States"

Dawes made a plea for American membership of the world court, pointing out

"Even when we join the court, we are not compelled to submit a cast to it if we do not wish to do so."

The sovereignty of the United States is fully safeguarded "in the propositions of President Coolidge in connection with the world court," Dawes said.

Dawes lauded President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes for their attitude toward the work of the American experts in preparing a basis for settlement of the reparations question. But for this attitude Europe might not today be facing a way from the chaos and hatred of war, he said. With the experts' plan inaugurated, all Europe will turn toward a new era of peaceful life and the United States will be saved from the depths of a great depression which the continued chaos of Europe would entail, Dawes said

"In the matter of our foreign policy, the two major parties in their platforms have made an issue to be decided by the American people," he continued

The Democratic party asks the people to turn back with them into the morass of the debate on the league of nations" by putting the question to a public referendum Dawes said while the Republican party asks the people to abandon the debate and stand on President Coolidge's foreign policy.

Dawes praised the administration's economies in conducting the government and lauded President Coolidge for signing the income tax reduction measure in the face of much opposition.

LARGE AUDIENCE

EVANSTON, Ill — (By Associated Press) — Having formally accepted the Republican nomination for vice president, Charles G Dawes entered actively into the party's national campaign today with his departure for Maine to deliver an address Saturday at Augusta.

The Augusta address is the only one listed for Dawes on the trip undertaken and he will return to his home here early next week, and then proceed to Lincoln, Nebraska, for another speech on August 29. His first stumping tour will begin soon afterward.

Formal notification of his selection as President Coolidge's running mate was given Dawes last night at ceremonies held on the lawn of his home here with an audience declared by Republican leaders to have been one of the largest that ever gathered at any political meeting in the vicinity of Chicago.

and Benjamin Bachrach and Clarence Darrow, defense counsel, in the three days they plan to use Then Robert E Crowe, state attorney will take two or three hours in the final effort to induce Judge John R Caverly to impose a capital sentence

FACES SLAYERS

Rearrangement of the seating space in front of the bench to give the attorneys more room, transferred Jacob Franks, father of the victim, from his accustomed place back of the defendants to a seat in front of the witness stand whence he faced squarely the slayers of his boy

The defendants gave no visible sign of perceiving Mr. Franks, chatted a moment with Clarence S Darrow, Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, their counsel, and then settled back to listen to Mr Marshall

Benjamin Bachrach tried to show a typewritten paper to the youthful criminals, but was stopped by on eof the guards Leopold expostulated but was mollified by an explanation.

The assistant prosecutor started with a reference to defense testimony that Leopold considered himself a superman

"So did the Chicago anarchists of 35 years ago consider themselves supermen," said Marshall "They sought to destroy the law with dynamite These men would destroy it by ohter means but on similar philosophical grounds"

He read from the records of the Haymarket riot trials and drew a parallel between speeches by Parsons, Spies and their associates and the case of the defendants

"The philosophy here is that the law has no application" said Marshall The anarchists were executed by the law that they damned not for their philosophy but for their violation of law"

"Upon what theory can it be said that the views of Leopold Jr, since they do not protect him from the consequences of his act, can be urged in mitigation his crime?" asked Marshall

The findings of the supreme court of the United States in the polygamy cases against Mormon leaders were referred to as another instance in which philosophy was disregarded by the courts as a mitigation

"When Leopold Jr. put his views into action and committed murder, he went beyond the pale of rightful philosophy and it is for the overt act itself that he is to be punished" declared Marshall

I have shown your honor that within the law those defendants are responsible that their beliefs may not be urged as mitigation of the offense and that the judgment must be based upon the turpitude of the crime" continued Marshall

He then turned to the definitions of murder in the Illinois statutes to show that the crime against young Franks came within those laws There was, he urged, no element of "justifiable homicide present to warrant any punishment short of the penalty of death"

NEW C. OF C. HOME OPENS OCT. 1

$2,500,000 Building at Washington Near Completion

ON DANIEL WEBSTER SITE

Constructed of Limestone, Duplicating Treasury Annex

WASHINGTON —(By Associated Press)—The new $2,500,000 home of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, toward which business men in all parts of the country have contributed, is nearing completion and will be thrown open Oct. 1.

Standing on the site of the Washington home of Daniel Webster, the imposing structure faces north on Lafayette Square toward the White House It is built of Indiana limestone and is a duplication, in the main, of the Treasury annex facing the opposite corner of the square. It was designed by the same architect, Cass Gilbert, of New York.

Where in days of yore stood Webster's home, with its rich political and social associations, and its rambling garden, a fountain will play in the courtyard in the center of the building The historical aspect will be preserved in Daniel Webster's desk, which will be used in the office of the president of the chamber.

The classic Greek architectural design that will house the National Chamber of Commerce had its inception just after the World war Business men of the country have been planning for it ever since The cornerstone was laid by Secretary Hoover in May, 1922, and actual building operations commenced in January, 1923.

FOUR STORIES

Rows of fluted Corinthian pillars, resting on a base which forms the first story, surmounted by a cornice with a simple balustrade above is a feature of the architecture Four stories enter into its present plan, but the building is so arranged that one or two stories may be added without marring its design, if pressure for space warrants it

The first floor will be devoted to conference rooms The various departments of the National Chamber will be housed in the three stories above The offices of The Nation's Business a national business magazine, will be located in the building. The system of having several large offices, rather than a number of smaller ones, will be followed

Th building has a frontage of 158 feet and a depth of 149 feet The main structure extends around three sides of the slightly irregular square At the rear, between the ends of the two wings yet forming an integral part of the building, is the main hall, or auditorium, with seats for 1,000 persons Balconied windows look down on the closed court, with its playing fountain

The facilities of the organization of the National Chamber will be available to commercial organizations and trade associations that will make the new building their rendezvous Ten thousand business men, firms and organizations have aided in making this "workshop of American business" possible.

ENGLISH HUSBANDS BEST, SAYS AMERICAN WOMAN

NEW YORK — Englishmen make better husbands than Americans, because they "treat their wives as companions and not as American husbands treat theirs, as dolls, spoiling them with presents, furs and jewels," says Mary Borden, the novelist, who has returned to the United States for a visit after an absence of eleven years She is the wife of General E L Spears, who has been a member of parliament for three years Her views on husbands were given in an interview here yesterday

"English husbands don't nag," continued Mrs Spears "A wife to an Englishman is a pal and their life is more normal than over here The English women do everything the men do and so they do not have so much time for bridge and clothes. Consequently they are not as good dressers as American women"

Mrs Spears, who is of the Borden family of Chicago, will join her mother in Camden, Maine She is accompanied by her son and her husband will come from England later to attend the international polo matches

Cash, Left By Buddy, Handed Out To Toilers

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—In the stately precincts of the Waldorf-Astoria, often trod by kings, princes and great ones of the earth, a fairy tale has assumed reality

The characters were humble and yet worthy folk clerks bell hops scullery maids waiters and checkers One by one they passed before John Killackey, the cashier and received checks of from $300 to $500, legacies left them by a fellow worker, Arthur Fowler clerk and messenger of the Waldorf drug store As each received his coveted paper until $40,000 had been distributed, memories of the quiet unassuming Fowler came to them, memories of one whom they said "played his game like a man"

Last October while Fowler lay dying in a hospital, he sent for Killackey The latter was surprised when Fowler informed him that he had accumulated a fortune of $40 000 saved out of his wages and out of the many tips he had received while delivering drugs to the hotel s guests

'I have no kin so I want to leave it all to my friends the men and women with whom I've worked' Fowler had said

So, at the bedside a list was made up containing old friends and employes of the hotel and of the drug store Not only were the clerks and the "boys out front" remembered, but also many a humble worker, men and women unseen by the guests, those who labor in the nooks and corners behind the gilded scenes

Fowler remembered too, the family of Dr Louis Trezise, owner of the drug store in which he was employed To each of them he left $1000 cash

COOLIDGE, DAVIS NECK AND NECK

Strength of Presidential Candidates Figured Out

13 STATES IN G. O. P. LIST

157 Electoral Votes Assured Democratic Nominee

BY PAUL R. MALLON

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—A careful tabulation of the fundamental strength of the three leading candidates as they enter the campaign shows President Coolidge and John W. Davis neck-and-neck with Robert M. LaFollette an ominous third.

These figures, which are based conservatively on the minimum claims of the candidates, the unbiased "dope" of political authorities and the records of presidential elections for the last 30 years indicate that today.

Mr Coolidge can count 156 electoral votes as practically certain to be cast for him from 13 states

John W. Davis can claim 157 electoral votes from 14 states as an absolute certainty.

Robert LaFollette may feel reasonably confident of a basic strength of 39 electoral votes from 5 states

Sixteen states with 177 electoral votes can, with nominal assurances, be classed as doubtful.

This compilation reveals that both Coolidge and Davis need at least 110 votes each from the 177 doubtful to insure their election It also displays how easily LaFollette can throw the election into the House of Representatives by merely holding his basic electoral strength and permitting the two leading candidates to divide the 177 doubtful votes between them.

COOLIDGE

Mr Coolidge is absolutely certain of the complete electoral vote of nine of the 13 states that are allotted to him. The New England districts of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire Rhode Island and Vermont, are already being counted by the Republican chiefs because of the influence Mr. Coolidge holds in them and because they all have been consistently Republican states in presidential elections since 1892 They deserted Taft in the Winson landslide of 1912, but the present campaign presents no similar situation and in nominal campaigns they are essentially Republican New Hampshire broke away from the others and went Democratic in 1916, but the Coolidge personal influence of the present campaign is taken to offset their irregular break.

Pennsylvania is considered the safest state for Coolidge, because of two prime factors, the domination of the Mellon-Reed-Pepper control over the political destinies of that region and because Pennsylvania never went Democratic in a presidential election since 1856

Delaware and Idaho are considered absolutely safe Republican states under present conditions, even tho LaFollette has made some inroads into Idaho, which he claims will corral a strong progressive vote.

FOUR LESS CERTAIN

In California, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas there is less certainty, but the dope indicates that Mr Coolidge is practically certain to carry all four

In California he was given a record primary vote and the power of the progressive Hiram Johnson is described in reports received in political circles here as being distinctly on the wane Another and more important reason for giving the state to Mr Coolidge is the fact that only once in the last eight presidential elections has the state deserted the Republican party LaFollette, however, now claims strength there which is certain to result in a strong poll for him, altho it is not expected that he can possibly overtake Mr. Coolidge

The last time Illinois went Democratic was in 1892 For the last seven presidential elections it has been consistently Republican. Mr Harding carried the state by nearly 1,000,000 majority and Hughes in 1916 got about a 300,000 majority.

The record of Indiana follows exactly that of Illinois, altho Mr Coolidge's position there is made a little less certain because of the recent success of Senator Ralston, a Democrat Many impartial political students here, however, doubt that Ralston could again carry the state in the face of strong Republican opposition and the Coolidge leaders there consider their position secure in the custody of Senator Jim Watson

Altho Kansas cannot be considered a historical Republican state, it went for Mr Harding in 1920 and has been on the Republican side in presidential years more than up the Democratic side It has two Republican senators, who may be expected to fight for Mr Coolidge, and altho LaFollette maintains he will get a big farmer vote there—and perhaps carry the state—impartial observers here give the ten votes of Kansas to Mr Coolidge.

Thus Mr Coolidge can be reasonably assured of the electoral vote of the whole of New England, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Idaho together with the less certain votes of California, Illinois, Indiana and Kansas, for a total of 13 states with a vote of 156.

DAVIS

The strength of Davis, which can be counted as certain, lies almost wholly within the boundaries of the historically Democratic states of the "solid south"

No one can be found who can seriously protest against his basic claims upon Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. In 1920 Tennessee fooled everyone by going for Mr. Harding, but the situation has changed to such an extent since that time that it is now considered safely for Davis.

Davis can also feel assured of the electoral votes of Kentucky and Oklahoma, even tho they have been known to break from the Democratic ranks. His strength there is considered absolutely safe.

In West Virginia, Davis also is conceded the eight electoral votes because that is his home state.

Thus, Davis with even more certainty than in some of the districts allotted to Mr. Coolidge, can feel sure that he will at least carry 14 states with 157 electoral votes.

LAFOLLETTE

Five states are given to LaFollette, with reasonable certainty. Upon the dope of the present, more than of the past, he is practically conceded Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota, and his home state of Wisconsin.

In Minnesota the Republican organization is shot to pieces and the Farmer-Laborites led by Shipstead and Magnus Johnson will certainly swing their 12 electoral votes to the independent

The machine dominated by his running mate, Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, is expected to carry that state for the independents In North and South Dakota he will have the tacit support of a group of Republicans and because of the strength of the LaFollette farmers there he is given these two states No one will contest his power to carry the 13 electoral votes of his home state, Wisconsin

Thus we have Lafollette with five states and 39 electoral votes already in the bag

ADMITS SETTING 100 FIRES

Former Bank Clerk Confesses to Arson Charge

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press—While firemen were answering alarms early today for three fires believed to have been of incendiary origin, George C. Gustow, a former bank clerk, was awaiting arraignment on a charge of arson. Gustow, according to Fire Marshal Brophy, confessed to setting more than 100 fires in apartment and loft buildings during the past few months, "just for the thrill"

Herman Gustow, a lawyer, father of the accused man, said his son had been afflicted with a mania for watching fires since an attack of infantile paralysis left him partly crippled. After being arrested in 1915 for setting fires, the younger Gustow was sent to an asylum. He was discharged as cured in 1919.

"I have an uncontrollable desire to set fires for the purpose of excitement," Gustow was quoted as saying in his confession. "I like to see the firemen work."

He insisted he never set a fire causing loss of life.

An intensive campaign to run down pyromaniacs was started by the police early this month after an apartment house fire resulting in the deaths of three persons.

DIVORCE IS ON INCREASE

Separations Gain in Proportion to Number of Marriages

FIGURES ARE COMPILED

Rural Districts Have Happier Homes, Report Reveals

Both the number of divorces and the number of marriages showed considerable increase in Allen-co in the calendar year of 1923, over records for 1922, statistics prepared by the U. S. Department of Commerce disclose.

In 1923, 679 marriages were performed in the county as against 628 for the year previous. At the same time courts of the county were grinding out 179 decrees in 1923 as against 164 in 1922.

Marriages showed an increase for the year of about eight per-cent while divorces increased at the rate of about 11 per-cent.

Cupid and Demon Divorce ran practically a dead hea in Auglaize-co for the two years. Marriages for 1923 were 225, records show, or one more than in 1922, and there were 24 divorces granted in each of the two years.

Comparison of the two counties illustrates where divorces are gaining on marriages. Allen-co with the city of Lima represents a semi-metropolitan population, while that of Auglaize-co is largely rural with a less strenuous economic struggle.

A better illustration is obtained by a glance at figures for Cuyahoga-co for the two years. The population is purely metropolitan.

Marriages for 1923 number 12,042, and for 1322, 10,231, an increase of 1,841 or approximately 20 per cent. Divorces for the same year were for 1923, 3,774 and 1,743 in 1922. The increase is 55 per cent.

Figures gathered from the entire state disclose that in 1923 56,021 marriages were performed and 11,902 divorces granted. For 1922, 53,205 marriages and 10,181 divorces

Marriages increase 5.3 per cent and divorce leaped forward at the rate of 16.9 per cent gain.

CLAIMS OF DAVIS BRANDED FALSE

Ex-Governor's Road Statements Disputed by Boulay

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press)—Former Governor Harry L. Davis, in his successful primary campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, made false statements concerning the number of new miles of highways constructed in the state under his administration, A. L. Boulay, director of the state division of highways and public works, charged in a prepared statement last night.

Declaring that Davis' statement that "my administration completed 2,000 miles of new highways, or more than three times as much as any previous administration," was "far from the truth," Director Boulay furnished data purporting to show that only 1,067 miles of new highways were actually constructed during the Davis term of 1921 and 1922 instead of 2000 miles as claimed by Davis.

Boulay further charged that the Davis administration touched only 1302.645 miles of highway and that part of this mileage was for widening, grading and resurfacing.

"Grading should not be classed as miles of road built, and widening does not add new miles to the state highway system, so these totals should be deducted to get a truthful statement of facts," Boulay's statement said.

The highway director said the figures on which his statement was based were compiled in the bureau of construction of the highway department by Stanley F. Krug, a Davis appointee.

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Study Of Man

Here is a youth who killed his father because he was "tired of his swearing about the house," and there is another youth who killed an aged hermit because he thought the latter had accused him of stealing chickens. A Los Angeles young woman passed hundreds of dollars worth of bogus checks in San Francisco "because she hated the town."

A Minneapolis young couple, 19 and 17 years, abandoned their 10-day-old babe to unknown hands because "it was the baby or the automobile—we couldn't take care of both." An overgrown Maryland boy killed a man so that he could get possession of three cents the latter had.

Mary McGuire, once rich but now old and infirm, dies alone and penniless in a Kansas City basement after 29 years of fighting loyalty to four sons, all of whom were criminals and desperadoes. An old, bent man goes, each day, to the office of Indiana Supreme Court clerk to pore for hours over the transcript of an alimony case that was decided against him many years ago.

A Minnesota couple buys an old, gruesome and discarded auto-hearse and will change the curtains and windows, put in a regular bed and employ it as their home during a 3500-mile auto trip.

A West Virginia Republican, piqued because a neighbor named his new-born babe after Davis, responding by naming his twins "Hell" and "Maria."

Hundreds of visitors daily visit the grave of young Calvin Coolidge and they have literally hacked a nearby stone fence to pieces and carried the broken rocks away as souvenirs.

"Comanche," General Custer's famous war horse and one of the two living things to escape the Little Big Horn massacre, now stands, stuffed, in the museum of the University of Kansas, and "Comanche" has had seven tails since his death because souvenir hunters have robbed him, a hair at a time, all thinking they were securing hairs from the original tail.

The most interesting study of mankind is man. View your newspaper of the day from that angle you will, as is here set down, find things to strain your logic, your philosophy and your wonder.

The Real Disease

Is the doctor taking the minister's place as a spiritual adviser? Dr. Samuel Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association and son of Harvard's great president, says:

"The province of the doctor's profession has been greatly widened during the last decade. Many mental and nervous troubles have been acknowledged to have a physical root—this leads to the baring of mental and spiritual anguish to the physician in hope of relief."

The real situation, a bit deeper than that, is that people are attempting to obtain from the medical profession something they can get only from religion.

The World War, as every physician has observed, has made nervous maladies the most common and alarming of all human maladies.

Doctors' offices are crowded with patients who, tho nothing definitely can be found physically wrong with them, are, nevertheless, sick people.

Neurasthenics and neurotics — a mighty crop of them—have been created by the worry of war days.

Some doctors attempt to find the roots of these maladies in improper functioning of the thyroid, adrenals and other endocrine glands. Others trace the maladies to and lose them in the intricacies of psycho-analysis and psychiatry.

The majority of these troubles are spiritual. And the only cure for them is spirituality — religion.

The doctor hears strange confessions — domestic troubles, sex entanglements, business disappointments, causing melancholy broodings that undermine the health.

The doctor learns the secret life of his patients.

And, if he is a wise physician, he comforts them spiritually in addition to prescribing tonics, heart stimulants, nerve sedatives, blood pressure reducers and other remedies.

But the doctor's spiritual powers are limited. A good many people who think they need medicine really need the solace and peace of religion.

Humanity is more spiritually than physically diseased.

Watch China

Lee Yuk-Tin, rich Chinese banker, visits New York and brings for exhibition relics buried 1,000 years before King Tut was born. These relics were dug up 18 feet underground near Canton, China, from the grave of an ancient king. They are marvelous artistic creations of carved jade, bronze and delicate porcelain.

China in the next few years will be the center of the world's attention in excavations into the forgotten past. The Chinese claim their authentic history dates back to a high degree of civilization 22,000 years ago. We have much to learn from them — including their system of inheriting debts as well as legacies.

Settlers Wanted

Australia wants 20 million new settlers. Her department of labor and industry is advertising for them. Shouldn't be any difficulty getting them if the word reaches impoverished Europe, facing generations of frightful war burden.

Australia's population now is only five and a half million people. But she has almost as much land as continental United States. Destined to be one of the five leading world powers. Others—America, Brazil, China and Russia.

Danger!

August is the most dangerous month of the year for railroad grade-crossing accidents. The chance of beating the train to the crossing is never as good as it looks from the driver's wheel. Remember, the train doesn't leave the track to hit the auto The danger zone is only a few feet wide, between the tracks. Play safe unless you crave to explore the Hereafter.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

HIGH PRESSURE FAMILIES

Whenever we doctors come across any striking series of cases in a family, cases of anything abnormal enough to be interesting, we hail the discovery with great delight and report the matter in the medical journals. There are now on record all kinds of family pedigrees of that kind, from the Jukes and Kallikaks to families with heredity hypersusceptibility to such foods as strawberries, shellfish, tomatoes or eggs.

Drs. O'Hare and Walker and Miss Vickers of Boston have found several families with more than an ordinary number of the members subject to cardiovascular disease, and they believe that heredity is a factor of hypertensive disease- blood vessel disease in which high blood pressure is an early feature. They analyzed the family histories of 300 unselected cases of permanent hypertension (high blood pressure) taken from hospital records and private practice, and in over two-thirds of these cases they found in the family history apoplexy, heart disease, nephritis, arteriosclerosis or diabetes In the private cases the incidence of vascular disease reached the high level of 76 per cent. In the entire series the number of relatives with some form of cardiovascular disease averaged 2.5 per patient Then they wondered whether hypertensive disease is really a family predisposition, and to settle that question they analyzed the family histories in 436 consecutive cases of non-vascular disease, and found a recorded incidence of vascular disease in 37.6 per cent.

That would tend to sustain the hypothesis that hypertension or high blood pressure and associated conditions runs in families, but it happened that the average age of the patients in the control series was only 36 years, whereas the average age of the patients in the series with vascular disease was 52 years—an age more likely to bring out evidence of cardiovascular disease So it would seem to me that there is little ground for the opinion of Drs. O'Hare and Walker that hypertension is an inherited condition or that a tendency to such disease is inherited. The statistics they bring to support the hypothesis are far from convincing Cardiovascular disease ranks second to tuberculosis in frequency in the United States mortality tables We know, now, that tuberculosis does not run in families, altho it is more than likely that analysis of family histories, after the fashion here referred to, would give some striking figures, for tuberculosis is so very common that nearly every family must be stricken now and then. The same thing applies to the question of cancer, which we know is not inherited but which is common enough to number victims in every family if not in every generation

But whether Drs. O'Hare and Walker are right or wrong in ascribing hypertensive disease to heredity, they draw some conclusions which seem sound and practical enough to pass on to the lay reader.

Nature frequently sounds a warning as early as the second decade in life of the possible development of hypertnsive disease in the fourth or fifth decade and physicians should watch over the young members of hypertensive families carefully. Among the warning signals mentioned by the authors are cold sweaty bluish hands, flushing, blushing, nervous temperament, nosebleed, migraine, and in the case of young women abnormal bleeding.

JUST FOLKS

—BY EDGAR A. GUEST—

THE MYSTERY OF GOLF

He may be a marvel at Latin and Greek,
Polish and Russian be able to speak;
But that doesn't help him to handle a cleek.

He may be a surgeon of eminent skill,
And know all about you whenever you're ill;
But that doesn't help him to keep his head still.

He may be a wizard at figures and rank
As the greatest accountant they have in the bank;
But when playing his mashies the shot he will shank.

He may be a preacher and know the good book,
He may save the soul of a double-deyed crook;
But that doesn't help him to get rid of a hook!

He may be a millionaire; yes, even thrice!
May buy what he wants and not think of the price;
But money will never get rid of a slice.

He may be a lawyer of eminent note,
Whole pages from Blackstone perhaps he can quote;
But bunkers and hazards will still get his goat.

He may be a statesman, respected and great,
May hold in his hands the affairs of the state;
But diplomacy won't keep an iron shot straight.

He may know the sciences ancient and be
The holder of many a college degree;
But it takes more than brains to get well off the tee.

He may know the Pharaohs and talk of King Tut,
May solve hieroglyphics and sign writing; but
He will not win the hole if he can't sink the putt.

So golfers be happy and dub on your way,
Take this consolation to soothe your dismay;
You must not know too much if good golf you would play.

Good golfers are few, and the few that exist
Have spent all their time on that snap of the wrist;
They have learned how to drive, but the classics they've missed.

Don't fret o'er your game as you watch the pros play
And wish you could shoot grassie shots in that way;
For you could if you did nothing else every day.

Wants Others to Know Its Value

North Union Street Woman Speaks Well of Pepgen

Stop at Hunter's Today for Advice Given

The strongest evidence in the world as to the value of a medicine is the statements of those who have given it a trial. When these statements come from home folks their truthfulness cannot be doubted.

"Give me Pepgen always," said Mrs. Nettie Putt, a well known Lima woman living at 1 N. Union street. "It has done me lots of good."

"For the past several months I had been extraordinary nervous and suffered from sour stomach and attacks of gas and bloating after my meals."

"My appetite, well I did not have any. For I knew everything I ate would make me sick."

"Not so long ago I heard some friends talking about the good results they had gotten from Pepgen. I purchased a bottle at Hunter's Drug Store and started taking it before meals."

"Right away I began to get better. I never saw a medicine do good so quickly as Pepgen does. Now I am in good health again. I have a ravenous appetite and everything I eat agrees with me. I surely am telling everybody about Pepgen for I know it is a fine medicine."

The genuine Pepgen may be obtained in Lima only at Hunter's Drug Store, 49 Public Square. The Paramount, cor. Main and Wayne, and The Argonne, cor. Post Office.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I am coming to you for the second time asking your advice again. How old must a girl be before she can get married in Michigan? Are there any other states of Michigan excepting Monroe a girl has to be 16? Can you get married in Kentucky before you are 21 without the girl's parents' consent? Would it be right for a girl in her early teens to elope? I am five feet one inch tall; how long should I wear my dresses. I have dark hair and eyes, what colors could I wear best?

Do you think my queries foolish? May I write again? How is my writing? How can I improve it? What are the meanings of the following names: Evelyn, Blanche, Donald, Edna, Cora, Lillian? Are there any other meanings for Blanche except white? Thank you for your advice and trouble.

A READER.

A girl must be 18 to be married in Michigan without her parents' consent; the rule is uniform for the entire state. In Kentucky she must be 21. It would be very wrong indeed for a girl in her early teens to elope. She has no idea of the gravity of the mistake she would be making; but she will discover it all too soon if she elopes.

You should wear your dresses from 10 to 12 inches from the floor, depending on your age and build.

On the contrary, I think it is wise of you to ask questions, for fear you may try to answer one or two yourself before you are able to do so, and thus find the foolishness in the answer rather than in the query. Yes, do write again.

If your complexion is good, and not too dark, you should be able to wear almost any color. Those most becoming can be decided by choosing the light or dark blue, dark or topaz brown, or other colors which will best blend with your eyes and coloring, to bring them out to the best advantage.

You admit that your writing isn't very good, don't you? But it really isn't so bad. I think you need a new pen most of all. Just take pains with it.

Evelyn means life, Edna pleasure, Cora maiden, Lillian, lily, and Donald, proud chief. White is the only meaning of Blanche; the word comes directly from the French.

GOOD MANNERS

A house party is one of the occasions when everybody is introduced. Good manners also demand that the places at the tea table nearest the hostess be vacated when new arrivals appear. This is so the newcomers can receive the hostess' attention.

BIG FISH HOOKED

Delphos Man Captures 15 Pound Pike in Quarry

DELPHOS — Fred "Fritz" Fortener, railroader and well known fisherman of Delphos, State-st, captured the prize catch of the season at the Helmieck stone quarry on the Little Auglaize river about four miles northwest of Delphos early Tuesday morning.

A 15 pound pike, 40 inches long was the prey of this skilled angler. The big fish put up a losing but game fight and was only outwitted by the skillful manipulation of various equipment that Fortener had always taken with him on trips to the quarry.

Many hours of this year's fishing season has been spent by Fortener on the banks of the quarry with little or no result until Tuesday morning.

The sight of the pike was an inspiration to Delphos fishermen, who have been less fortunate and were continually remarking as to the bad season.

Already the event has response, for men may be seen at any hour leaving for their favorite fishing quarters to try their luck in an effort to beat Fortener's prize.

At The Orpheum

"Youth a la Carte" will be the final offering of the Halton Powell musical comedy company during its stay at the New Orpheum. This production will be staged for the first time here at the Thursday matinee. It will replace "Never Again," a comedy in which mistaken identity is presented in side-splitting form.

This company has been pleasing New Orpheum patrons since the opening of the fall and winter season on Aug. 10. Its strength has chiefly been seen in its cast of principals and in the two new comedians Earl Young and Billy Wyse.

Special interest is being shown in the chorus girl competition to be held Wednesday night. Each of the girls has been working on a skit to be presented. The winner of the series of contests that has been held by the company during the season will have a leading part in "Sahara" the Halton Powell road show that is now under rehearsal here.

Beginning Sunday a new company will come to the Orpheum. Its identity is being kept a secret by the theatre management but assurance is given that it will be one of the leading companies presenting tabloid musical comedies.

Notes for Women

A new antiseptic has been discovered that is four times as powerful as Carbolic Acid.

It is much more powerful than bichloride of mercury.

Yet it is harmless that one can drink it and so mild in its action that it is a healthful wash for the most delicate membrane.

Chemists say it will take the place of harsh poisonous germ killers. By getting a 60 cent bottle of Kotene at Green's Public Drug Store, Hunter's Drug Stores or any good druggist women can learn much of personal hygiene that will be of benefit to them — Adv.

A WORD TO WOMEN

A hundred and twenty-one thousand women would comprise a vast army. Yet a canvass was recently made among more than that number of women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for feminine ailments. The result proved that ninety-eight out of every hundred reported benefit from its use. This is most remarkable evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of womankind, and should influence every sick and ailing woman to try it. —Adv.

The Greatest Show Ohio Has Ever Seen!

Outshining all other fairs in the seventy-four years the State Fair has been in existence, the 1924 Ohio State Fair will be the greatest show ever staged in Ohio.

Lasting seven full days, replete with the finest exhibits and the most elaborate entertainment program ever undertaken, it will be a gigantic pageant of all that Ohio stands for.

A SEVEN DAY PROGRAM

For the first time in history, a seven-day program has been arranged. Opening Sunday, August 24, with religious services and appropriate music, the State Fair will continue through the week to the night of Saturday, August 30.

An extensive building program has not only put the grounds in best condition, but has made possible the largest showing of live stock, hogs, poultry and sheep on record. Among the new facilities is the mammoth new Cattle Barn, the finest exhibition building in the country. New features in the domestic departments, improved facilities for Grange and Club work, and finer preparations for machinery, tractor, and other shows, complete a field of exhibits never before approached.

The entertainment program has never been finer. Six days of fast horse racing and a day of automobile events provide a perfect speed program. Band concerts, hippodrome acts and other special features provide an unending flood of amusement. The evening Horse Show, always a favorite, is bigger and better, while the evening pageant, "Queen Fashion," is the most elaborate ever undertaken for any State Fair.

Make the State Fair a Seven-Day Holiday!

This great exposition is too gigantic in size to be thoroughly reviewed in a single day. Plan now to make a seven-day event of State Fair week and enjoy all of the multitude of attractions prepared for you. It is your Fair, arranged and carried out at great expense and after months of labor. Do not miss it!

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The "Nervous Wreck," a young easterner, is driving Sally Morgan from her father's ranch to the station when the car runs out of gasoline. At that point the Wreck takes five gallons from a passing car.

Later they [illegible] Chalk McSween, the foreman, wants Sally [illegible] a cook [illegible] Mr [illegible] in the car which they left up [illegible] Bob Wells [illegible] Sally [illegible] Information [illegible] Sally in [illegible]

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Other parties?" said Sally.

"Yes, ma'am. The sheriff has been telling the boss about it. There were two other automobiles stuck up somewhere around here within the past couple of weeks. As near as I can make out from what the sheriff tells the boss it's a new sort of gang. First they ran the Indians out, to civilize 'em, and things went along all right until they had road agents holding up stages. Well, they got the best of the road agents after several parties had got killed, and the business sort of died out.

"And then—the sheriff has been going right into the history of all of it—there was a new bunch got working on the trains. I can remember reading about them in the papers myself. They used to go thru the trains and take everything that everybody had and anybody that didn't give up got shot. It took quite a while to get rid of all the train robbers but finally they did and everything looked peaceful. And now they've begun again on the automobiles."

"Really?" exclaimed Sally.

"Yes ma'am. I don't [illegible] in the same bunch, understand? They hung most of the old ones. It seems, the sheriff tells the boss, that in the last two or three years there's been a lot of automobiles coming thru this way, mostly rich people from the east like the boss. They go clear on out to the coast and then drive all the way back again. Some of 'em carry quite a lot of valuables and these new hold-up gangs sometimes make a pretty good profit. The sheriff says they didn't get into his county until quite recent, but he's heard about their goings on outside of it.

"But now they've got into this county and he's quite stirred up. We're the third car in about two weeks. I guess the business is getting good, because it seems the gang is taking on new members. There were six of 'em that stuck us up, you know."

He said it so blandly that Sally was half persuaded he believed it.

"Six," repeated Timothy. "The boss claims only four, but there was two more that he didn't see. I didn't like to contradict him in front of the sheriff, but there was six, all right. I'm going to tell the sheriff when I get a chance, because he ought to have all the clues, so he can get to work right."

"Certainly," said Sally in an absent way.

She was pondering over the surprising intelligence from Timothy and wondering how it affected the case of the Wreck and herself. If there was really a gang at work in the county—and of course Bob Wells would not say so unless it were true—it seemed to make their own case much simpler. The exploit of the Wreck would naturally be blamed on those which were in the business for a living. It began to look as if they were hiding from nothing at all.

She slipped into the pantry and closed the door behind her. At the farther end was the other door that opened into the dining room. It was a swinging door with a half-inch space between the edge of it and the frame. She tiptoed forward, brought her ear close to the crack and stood there breathing softly.

Underwood was talking about Sally's apple pie.

"I'm going to take her back to New York with me and fire my French cook," he announced. "I don't know what sort of a job her husband can fill, but I'll find something for him."

Sally raised her eyebrows, for this was news. And then she heard the familiar, boisterous voice of Bob Wells.

"I don't blame you," said the sheriff. "The lady can certainly cook. You don't get a cook once in a lifetime. When you get 'em the thing to do is to rope 'em and brand 'em, and then don't let 'em outside the corral. Cooking is a woman's natural job, but they don't all get to be experts. But now and then, if you keep your eyes open, you can find one. Why—"

He paused to chuckle comfortably.

"The fact is, I'm going to marry one," he said.

"Congratulations," remarked the voice of Jerome Underwood.

"[illegible] may I look at it" [illegible] these biscuits that [illegible] got a girl who can cook [illegible] as well as that. [illegible] can do a lot more than cook. She's a smart girl and she's pretty, too. But when it comes to cooking she doesn't have to take her hat off to anybody. After all, it's the main thing. It's the foundation."

"Absolutely," said the voice of Underwood, out of a full mouth.

CHAPTER XIV

"The Son of a Gun"

The Wreck, who had been keeping vigil from a window of the bunk house, saw the tall figure of the sheriff striding down to the corral just as dusk was settling. Next he saw the black horse and its rider headed along the trail that led to the main road. He could hear the sheriff whistling. There was a complacent sound about it that made him scowl.

He waited until the man of the law passed from sight among the distant spruce, then set off at a rapid pace for the ranch house.

Sally had very few words for anybody during the evening. The Wreck vainly tried to maneuver her into a private conversation, but she kept aloof from him. He wanted to hear all she knew about the sheriff's visit, and it puzzled him when he discovered that she was deliberately dodging. Probably she was mooning about things, he figured; women had a way of getting sentimental when there was absolutely no sense in it. He was willing to bet she was half sorry that Bob Wells had not discovered her, altho she had been in a wild flurry for fear that he would. It would be just like her. [illegible] sentimental. She wanted [illegible] and he didn't want him. If anybody could figure out what a woman really did want, the Wreck was willing to listen.

A couple of the boys drifted in for late supper, along with Chalk McSween. Timothy hung around the kitchen. The Wreck finally gave up the job and went out. [illegible] wash the dishes, for Timothy [illegible] a flirt at it.

Sally finished her work and went off to bed. [illegible] Listened [illegible] good of themselves. [illegible] in her head. That was not exactly true [illegible] in her own [illegible]. Probably the things she overheard were compliments. [illegible] had heard them before and always so regarded them. But—

"So Bob Wells is marrying a cook, is he?" she muttered as she turned off the light in her room. "I'm a smart girl and I'm pretty—oh yes. But the cooking is the main thing. It's downright important and necessary; it's the foundation. Oh, wait till I see him!"

Downstairs in the big living room there was an earnest conversation in progress between Chester Underwood and his father. It dealt with a discovery Chester [illegible] roaming about after supper in hope of a word with Sally Morgan and failing to get it, he had drifted idly among the out buildings. He had observed before that one of the little sheds commonly used for storing tools and various odds and ends was locked. It was unusual to lock anything around the ranch, but he had paid no particular attention to the fact. Now it aroused his curiosity.

The padlock would not yield to a pull. He tried several keys, but none of them would manipulate the lock. Then he picked up a stone and began hammering at the hasp. Eventually it loosened under the attack and he managed to wrench it out of the wood. Rusty hinges groaned as he swung the door back.

A dusty flivver stood inside the shed. He stared at it for a while, wrinkling his forehead and trying to remember whether anybody at the ranch possessed such a thing. He stepped into the shed and walked slowly around it. The [illegible] was getting rather dark, which was not favorable for detailed observation. So far as he could [illegible] however, it looked just like any other flivver. But no—there was a front wheel missing on the left side. A soap box had been placed under the axle. He looked around the shed, but could not find the wheel. It struck him as peculiar that anybody should put a flivver under lock and key, particularly one that had only three wheels.

[illegible] stepped outside [illegible] for another view [illegible] glance rested [illegible] and became [illegible] there was a vague stirring in his memory. Then with a [illegible] of astonishment on his face he hurried off in the direction of the ranch house.

All this he had been relating to [illegible] as they sat in the [illegible] room and Jerome Underwood had been shooting questions at him that began in incredulity and developed into genuine curiosity.

"You say you can remember the license plate?" demanded his father.

"No, I didn't remember the number, of course. I never took any note of it. I wasn't near enough the other night. I didn't notice the state either. But it just has the general look. I think maybe it's the color that stuck in my mind."

"And it's a one seater?"

"Yes."

"H'm! Well there are millions of them, of course. You ought always to remember license numbers in any kind of an emergency."

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH BURKE

This sister of mine, dear Ruth, is a mighty clever girl. In my last letter to you, you will remember I told you that mother had started to investigate the whole matter of those pearls. (Truly, Ruth, I wish I had never seen them.) I'm beginning to believe the legend that pearls bring tears. Of course, you will say that they also brought me a great deal of joy and happiness, but if that string of beads is the cause of a separation between Jack and me, nothing else will matter.

Mother sent a telegram to Jack asking him to bring little Jack over here. I can just see my husband's face when he got the telegram. He realized that it was war to the knife with us.

I wonder if he remembers that Jack is legally my child, and if anything should come in the way of a separation, I shall insist upon having him. I haven't confided this to anyone up to date—in fact I have hardly voiced it to myself until this moment.

I don't think Jack can refuse to come on mother's invitation, especially as dad particularly wants to see him.

He will see from the kind of telegram which mother sent that she apparently does not know anything about our quarrel. It was a very diplomatic telegram. Mother wired that dad wanted to see Jack very much and as I wanted the baby he would better bring him himself. That was literally all.

Dear girl, this is not what I intended to write you at all when I started this letter. I had made up my mind it should be all about Alice. Yesterday before luncheon without a word to anyone, my sister slipped out of the house. At dinner time she had not returned, and mother grew very much worried.

At last she confided to me that after she and Alice had left my room Alice went into hysterics and said she would kill herself if by any possibility Karl should ever know what she had done.

"What have you done?" asked mother.

Evidently Alice thought I had told mother what I suspected my sister of doing, but when she heard her question, she shut up and after a few more sobs, said she wanted to be alone.

Two or three times during the morning mother rapped at Alice's door and was told again and again that Alice would rather not see anyone. The last time just before lunch, however, there was no answer, and mother thought she was asleep. She waited all the afternoon, and when at dinner time she found from one of the maids that Alice had been gone ever since before luncheon she was sure the girl had made away with herself.

I told her that my sister would never do that—that she was a good fighter whatever else she might be.

To calm her fears, however, I finally called up Karl's house. I could not find him. Mother felt better after that, as she surmised they were together, and would be coming in later.

I confess, Ruth, I was a little bit worried myself, for I didn't just see what Alice was going to do to get out of it all. She had virtually confessed, to me at least, before Karl, when she frantically asked my mother not to tell Karl what she had done, that she had written that letter to Jack.

Ruth, I'm ashamed to say that I have no love for my younger sister, and I am ashamed that one of my own family has proved herself so unworthy.

There is room now in your home for an inviting extra bathroom

Why let this valuable space go unused when it can add so much to your comfort and convenience?

You need not re-model or re-build your home in order to enjoy the essential comforts of the finest new residences that are planned and built today.

When you compare these modern houses with those erected fifteen or twenty years ago, you will find that the outstanding difference lies in the number of bathrooms and the character and the design of their fixtures.

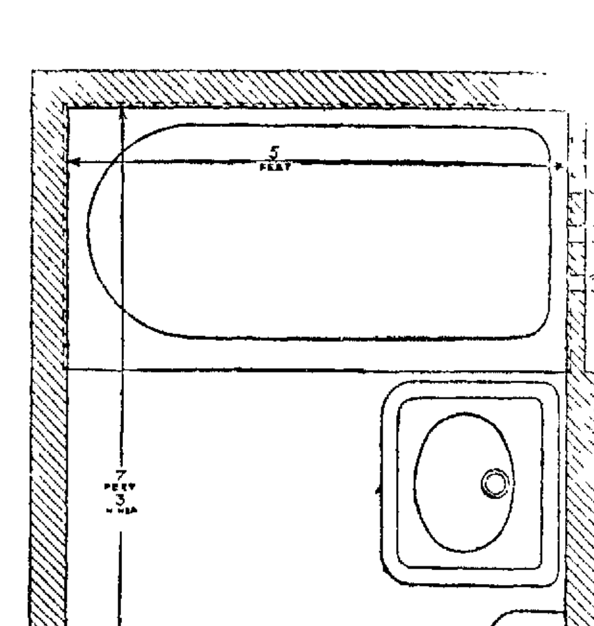

Add comfort and time economy

Appreciation of the increased comfort and time economy two or more bathrooms give, has put them into so many new homes. But even in old houses, the same convenience and comfort can be provided now at very moderate cost and in surprisingly small space. Your plumbing contractor can help you to discover the unused nook or corner—invisible, perhaps, to you—in which an extra bathroom can be placed, and all the hurry and worry of the crowded morning hour eliminated.

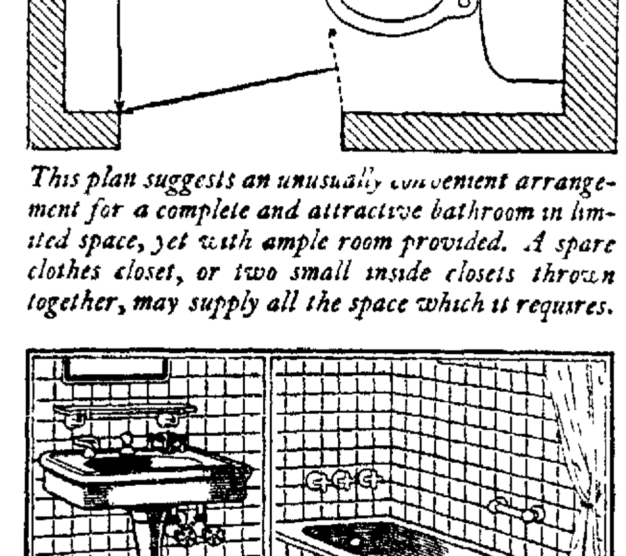

Compact units for small space

It may be a storage closet—or two closets thrown together—a tiny spare bedroom or the empty end of a hallway. Even with limited space, he can supply compact, yet graceful, Crane fixtures for the equipment of a convenient and inviting bathroom.

Ask him to look over your house and show you where an extra bathroom can be fitted up. Come to the Crane Exhibit Rooms and see how many interesting and practical suggestions you will get from the wide variety of plumbing and heating fixtures now on display. A cordial welcome awaits you.

This plan suggests an unusually convenient arrangement for a complete and attractive bathroom in limited space, yet with ample room provided. A spare clothes closet, or two small inside closets thrown together, may supply all the space which it requires.

The graceful Idalia Lavatory has a quick-compression double-mixing faucet, integral overflow and a lipped china soap dish. The Tarnia tub of porcelain enamel on iron, is usually set in tiling to match the walls. It can be had in three lengths, 5, 5½ and 6 feet.

ST. PAUL BOXER BACK WITH SMILE THAT WONT COME OFF

Lima Tennis Champ Gets Into Finals At Toledo Tourney. Cobb's Jungleers Drop Low

GIBBONS BACK HOME OPTIMISTIC OF GAME

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK — (By United Press)—Bringing with him a part of his purse and a broken promoter's promise of $35,000, Tom Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, has returned from London, where he recently knocked out Jack Bloomfield, the British champion.

Gibbons went to London after Major Arnold Wilson, the leading British promoter, had promised him $50,000 to meet the later hope. Gibbons met Bloomfield and he met a lot of Englishmen he liked, but he couldn't catch up with the paymaster, he said.

With his usual optimism, and the same smile that he uncovered in Shelby when he learned that he had to fight Jack Dempsey for nothing, Gibbons said he hoped he would get the rest of the money but he would take it as one of the breaks of business, if he didn't.

"I suppose," Gibbons said, "that some business men will accuse me of lacking wisdom because I didn't get my money before I went into the ring. But there is something else to boxing than money grabbing. I haven't been as fortunate as some other boxers who have not been in the game as long as I have, but boxing has done a lot for me and I would not consider doing anything to hurt the game.

"Boxing is going better in this country than ever before and it is just getting back on its feet in England. If I had refused to go into the ring in London, the Englishmen would have been justified in their suspicions that American boxers are money grabbers and that there is no element of sport in the game.

"I went into the ring because there was a big crowd there to see us work and because they had been so nice to me. I wouldn't have gotten the rest of my purse anyway and I figured that I had done a lot of training for the bout, had made a long trip to get there and it wouldn't hurt me to do a little boxing in the ring.

"The show was badly mismanaged but the promoter didn't run away with the money. He didn't get enough at the gate to pay the bills. If I had taken all he had the preliminary boys wouldn't have been able to get a cent and some of the kids were flat broke."

Gibbons left on the first train for St. Paul to join his family, which was recently increased to five boys by the arrival of twins.

Eddie Kane, his manager, said they had no plans for the immediate future, but that Tom was not going to retire.

"He's working now better than he ever did," he said. "If the promoters have a proposition for Renault, Tunney or any other contenders, we will do a lot of listening."

Small Fields Entered At Randall

CLEVELAND — The smallest fields to race in the Grand Circuit in years were entered in four events at North Randall Wednesday notwithstanding two stakes, the Champion Stallion, and the Emery, were on the program.

Four three year old trotters were named to start in the Championship Stallion stake with a value of $9,705, while six were named overnight to go in the Emery, purse $3,000 for 2:15 class trotters.

Among the scheduled starters in the Stallion stake is Guy Richard, sensational as a two year old and for which James T. Berry of Hartford, Conn., recently paid 20,000. Others are Mr. McElwyn, Colonel Bosworth and Rachel Dillon.

Five were named to start in the 2:14 pace and six in the 2:09 pace which complete the card.

CLEVELAND —The Cleveland purse, $3,000, for 2:07 pacers was the feature on Wednesday's Grand Circuit program at North Randall. It attracted eleven scheduled starters, including Baron Worthy, Sparkle, Prince Loree, Miss Belwin, Colonel Bidwell, Ribbon Cane and five others.

Three other events are on the card—the second division of the 2:17 trot with seven named starters; 2:05 pace with twelve and 2:18 trot with eight. The first division of the 2:17 trot was raced yesterday.

Announcement was made that because rain interfered with last Saturday's program, the meeting will continue thru Friday. It had been scheduled to end Thursday.

WATCHING THE SCORE BOARD

(By United Press)

YESTERDAY'S HERO — Ed Brown, Brooklyn outfielder, hit a homer in the eighth with one on and beat the Pirates 4 to 2.

Bunching hits in the pinches, the Giants beat the Reds 6 to 2, and increased their lead over the Pirates to four games.

Washington moved into second place by taking a double header from the Tigers, 4 to 3 and 5 to 3. Manager Buck Harris drove in the run in the ninth inning that won the first game.

George Uhle, pinch hitting in the ninth, smacked out a homer but the Athletics beat the Indians 5 to 3 and took the series.

Flagstead's homer in the seventh with two on, helped the Red Sox beat the Browns, 11 to 5.

Jacobson drove in three St. Louis runs, with two doubles.

OPEN GOLF

CHICAGO — Officials of the Illinois Professional Golfers' Association has announced that the open championship will be held at the Glen Flora Club, at Waukegan, September 8 and 9.

Sports Want To Assist McCoy

NEW YORK — (United Press) —Reports were circulated in boxing circles that friends of Kid McCoy, former boxer, had asked Tex Rickard to help raise funds for the defense of McCoy against the indictments for murder and robbery.

Rickard said that he had not been approached and had heard nothing of any attempt being made to raise funds. When asked if he would be willing to help the former champion, Rickard said, "I would, but first I would like to know something about the plans of the defense and what they want to do."

AS A MATTER OF FACT

At the official meeting of the Northwestern Tennis association, V. J. Stolly, of Lima was elected vice president. It is Stolly that plays with Leman Baker in the doubles. They play against the best in northwestern Ohio in Toledo Wednesday and Thursday. In speaking of Baker Stolly is loud in his praise. In the match against Dr. Gardiner, who is one of the fastest players in the country and a terrific server, was one of the most spectacular games ever played on the Toledo courts. Baker met his fast drives with accuracy and Baker's placement was almost perfect. Gardiner is considerably along in years and has been playing the game for a long time. Baker is much younger and an athlete all over; in splendid form, he was more than a match in endurance. There are two outstanding facts about the game of tennis, it is characterized by two kinds of players only; those who play very poorly, or those who play well; there is no middle division. It would be about as interesting to watch the ordinary player as two old fogies playing a game of checkers, but when the experts get together, it is just about as exciting, from a spectators point of view as any other game played by athletes. The endurance of the long distanced runner is a requisite, and the quickness of a cat is another. Drive after drive is returned by one player or the other, returned they are stopped shot back to every position within the limits, with a precision that is only learned thru long experience. Stolly believes that it is possible for Baker to win the Northwestern tournament.

TOURNEY COMES TO LIMA NEXT AUGUST

Next August the Northwestern Tennis tournament will be held in Lima. This was decided on at the meeting just held in Toledo. The cities taking part in it will be Bowling Green, Findlay, Bryan Wapakoneta, St. Marys, Oak Harbor, Fostoria, Toledo and Lima. In the one that is now going on Cleveland is represented. There will be in the neighborhood of 60 teams that will compete for the trophy, which is a large silver cup, bearing the names of the different contestants who have won in the past several years. It is proper to say that competition is not restricted and it often happens that famous players from many parts of the country enter the lists. So it will be seen that the contests is sure to bring a large crowd to Lima and better still players who lead on the tennis courts in many sections of the country.

LOST CREEK TENNIS CLUB

The interest taken in tennis this season above all previous years is bourne out thru the number of players taking an active interest in the game on local court. The Lost Creek organization held a meeting Monday evening for the purpose of deciding junior memberships. The age limit will be 15 years and these will be admitted as members at half the required membership fee. They will have access to the courts in equal proportions to the older members and will receive the same privileges. Like arrangements include women also. The membership has increased so rapidly that it will be necessary to make additional courts, which goes to show just how popular the game is becoming. Aside from the Lost Creek club the courts at Faurot park are constantly occupied by tennis enthusiasts. Surely the game is coming into its own.

GOLF IS BOOMING

It is a wet day when the course out at beautiful Shawnee is not occupied by a number of enthusiastic golfers, and the spirit of rivalry is just as great among the women as the men. There was a very interesting match played between Mrs. Swift, who is one of Kenton's most enthusastic golfers, and Mrs. E. R. Curtin Jr. recently. Mrs. Swift won the match two up and two to play. And the caddies are not shy as "bugs" of the game. Monday last twenty of them got away from Marion and pitched in with the same number of Lima cads, and Lima squashed them by a 6-S score over the Shawnee links. This Thursday twenty of Lima's best players will journey to Mansfield and will engage a like number of the cracks of that city. An overwhelming conquest is, of course, looked forward to; who can tell maybe a hole in one.

It is perhaps unfortunate that a suitable public links could not grow under a popular movement to that end. Lima needs one bad. There are many golfers enthusasts who, if it were possible, would regard Lima as a seventh heaven if this was a reality.

RICKARD HAS NOTHING ON YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Tex Rickard, promoter of pugilistic extravaganzas, has nothing on Old Eli, promoter of football contests de luxe and remunerative.

The Yaye eleven will play to approximately a $750,000 "gate" this autumn, quite enough to make Mr. Rickard casually turn his promotional bean.

Since Yale made a practice of playing the Army, the bowl has been filled to capacity twice during the season. Now Yale, with Dartmouth back on the schedule, plans to fill it three times. Prices for the Harvard and Army games will be $3 and for Dartmouth $2. This will realize about $624,000 alone.

Yale this year is selling blanket tickets with a premium offer that acts in two ways. The offer insures reserved seat privileges. This means Yale is after public patronage that may break all gridiron "gate" records.

THESE FIGURES PICTURE YALE'S "NEAR-MILLION"

Games	Estimated Attendance	"Gate"
N. Caro.	20,000	$ 15,000
Georgia	18,000	$ 13,500
Dartmth.	78,000	156,000
Brown	47,000	47,000
Army	78,000	234,000
Harvard	78,000	234,000
Maryland	50,000	37,500
Total	369,000	$736,000

Yale doesn't need general patronage at her big classics, the Princeton or Harvard football games, but it is different with the preliminary contests which do not attract the old grads from near and far.

In going after Mr. General Public's business the Yale Athletic Association has appealed to his greatest weakness, SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

The plan is not wholly unlike the strategy of the patent medicine seller who offers a package of needles, a bar of soap and three balls of pink yarn with each bottle of corn cure.

"If you buy a season ticket for the four preliminary games, then you may have the privilege of applying for tickets to the big games," purr the Yale magnates.

Thus the outside gridiron fandom need no longer feel the depressing realization of an inferiority complex.

The grumble here has been long and thunderous. When the "big" games rolled around Mr. General Public—the same old bird who supported the minor contests—was left outside in the cold, blustering winds.

On the occasion of the Harvard and Princeton games this city is invaded by thousands of graduates and undergraduates of the "Big Three" universities, and Mr. General Public is always asked to step aside. So he has finally become indignant and decided to stay away from the preliminary games. Last year a boycott was virtually in force.

This probably explains Yale's present campaign to get his business back.

Incidentally, Yale has raised prices repeatedly during recent years. With the booking of the Army, a 75-center with a small college became a $3 affair.

And now another 75-center—the Dartmouth game—has become a $2 affair.

Don't let anybody tell you the colleges aren't interested in the turnstiles!

BAKER IS THE VICTOR

TOLEDO — (Special to Lima News)—Leman Baker, of Lima continues his sensational work on the courts in his play in the Northwestern Ohio Tennis tournament. In one of the most brilliant games seen here in a long time he moved up into the finals thru defeating John Crafts, one of the strongest local players in the most decisive fashion and in straight sets 6-2, 6-1 and 6-2.

Baker's play was remarkably accurate in placing cut strokes and his fast work in covering the court gave the Lima player his victory over the Toledo tennis player.

Baker meets the winner of the Bradley-Ohl semi-final match at 4:45 this afternoon, which will decide the championship of the tournament. The sets are being played on the courts of the Toledo Tennis club.

Everything Ready For Big Bout

FREMONT, Ohio — Final details in the arrangement for the middleweight championship battle between Harry Greb, titleholder, and Tiger Flowers are complete, Promoter Ray Bronson announced. The arena is finished, lights are installed and seats are in place. There will be accommodations for more than 10,000 spectators and it seems now that a capacity crowd will witness the bout. In Toledo the seat sale is as large as for any fight held in Toledo itself for several wears and other cities report a similar condition.

The bout will be ten rounds, no decision. Greb can lose his title only by beink knocked out or by fouling. Flowers is in excellent shape and confident. Greb will be haevier than in some of his important fights, but he says he is in prime condition and expects to defeat the negro.

The champion is training in Fremons. Flowers is working out in Toledo.

PRITCHARD TO HIRAM

HIRAM, Ohio — George H Pritchard of Springfield, Mo., is the new director of athletics at Hiram College, succeeding Roy E. Tillotson, who has joined the coaching staff of Miami Universsity.

FAST MEN TRAIN

Chaley Paddock and Loen Mutchison, among the fastest track men of this country, hit their strides on the cinder path for the first time since coming home. They were working out on Colgate field, where they will try for honrs in the A. A. U. contest.

CHAMPION LOSES

Dudley Golding, of Wichita Falls proves that he was some amateur golfer by defeating Dr Larry D. Broomfield, seven times Colorado golf champion 2 to 1 in the first flight of the championship match, over the Denver country club links.

SENATORS ARE AGAIN CROWDING YANKEES

NEW YORK—As they entered the last quarter of the race for the American League pennant the Washington Senators advanced within two games of the league-leading Yanks who remained idle. Washington took both ends of the double header from the Detroit Tigers and went into second place while Detroit slipped back into the third notch. Washington won the first game 4 to 3 and took the second 5 to 3, winning four out of five games of the Detroit series. The St. Louis club went down to defeat in a free hitting game with Boston 11 to 5 in the final game of the series.

Connie Mack's Athletics made it three out of four in the series with the Cleveland Indians, taking the final game yesterday, 5 to 3.

The Giants continued to set the pace in the National League race, increasing their lead to four games by defeating Cincinnati, 6 to 2, while Brooklyn was taking a hard fought game from Pittsburg, 4 to 3.

Delphos Is Coming Sunday

Lima's oldest and bitterest rival on the ball field, Delphos, will be on hand to take a whack at the pennant leaders Sunday. It is said that the oldest inhabitant of the canal city will forcibly remind the questioner, that Delphos has always played better ball than Lima. It touches a weak spot to call to mind to those loyal fans that there was a time when Lima could whick 'em and that time was never more forcibly illustrated than right now. But such words go in at one ear and come out of the other, without even taking a semblance of note. In other words they don't hear you.

In the past Delphos has drawn record crowds to the Murphy-st grounds and further back to the ball parks that were the homes of great ball teams. But no other adversary is quite so bitterly opposed as Lima with a Delphos fan.

And it is not out of place to say that there is a great deal of the same feeling in Lima against the neighboring city. It goes back into the mythological past, just as the feeling is keen now. Lima will do all that is honorably consistent to win this game. There is lofty honors in winning the pennant and the Spalding cup, and Lima is out to do that very thing, but somehow or other there is a higher satisfaction in trouncing Delphos.

So it is certain that each team will have its strongest players in position, and besides that each player will be nerved to the breaking point in doing his level best to win. It is understood that Delphos have made elaborate preparations and have added enough stronger players, which in their minds will win the game. But what of Lima? Halloran in his characteristic manner is whittling sticks and just whistling.

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Under pressure of profit-taking, stocks which had shown recent strength drifted lower at the opening of today's market, with other issues fluctuating within narrow and irregular limits. American Can fell back a point and Allis Chalmers 1½. Heaviness of United States Rubber reflected a drop in earnings in the first half of the year.

Altho buying power appeared to be lacking for pivotal industrials in the initial dealings, operations for the rise were rsumed in other sections of the list. In the first half hour of trading new high records were created by about a dozen shares, including Missouri Pacific preferred, Mack Trucks and White Motors, the latter two moving up to 2 and 2½ points. Western Union was driven down 2½ points, "Nickel Plate" 1½ and American Smelting 1. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe rallied a point.

Foreign exchanges lower.

Profit-taking sales were readily absorbed during the morning and the industrials were headed upwards again around noon under the leadership of U. S. Steel common which touched 111¾, its highest price since 1920. One block of 15,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at 15, up ¼. Buying was on a large scale, total sales in the first hour exceeding 340,000 shares, with a brisk demand noted for the tobaccos, equipments and motor accessories. Rails were sluggish with fresh weakness cropping out in some of the so-called Van Sweringen issues, Nickel Plate dropping 2¾ and Chesapeake and Ohio one. American Water Works advanced 4¼ points and Mack Truck, General Electric, Consolidated Cigar preferred and White Motors moved up 3 points or more. Call money opened at 2 per cent.

Bullish demonstrations in several industrial specialties were used as a screen for extensive profit-taking in other sections of the list, giving today's stock market, one of the most active this year, an irregular appearance. U. S Steel common touched 111 3-4, the highest price in five years. Saes approximated 1,300,000 shares.

The close was irregular.

Watching The Markets

Of local interest will be the 10 percent stock divident declared Tuesday by the Crane Co. This is the second stock divident within the past four years. PRICE OF WHEAT ON DECLINE

Drop is Brought About by Persistent Selling

MARKET. EASY AT CLOSE

Losses in Corn Quotations Also Recorded

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Persistent selling on the part of commission houses made wheat prices average lower today during the early dealings. Bearish estimates of the spring crop yield in the Dakotas and Minnesota were a factor. According to a leading authority the production in the three states promised to be 65,000,000 bushels more than the latest government estimate. Opening quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1-2c lower with September $1.27 3-4 to 1.28 and December $1.32 3-4 to 1.33, were followed by numerous fractional changes and then by a material setback all around.

Warmer temperatures led to a pronounced drop in corn values. At first however, the market showed considerable strength as a result of adverse crop reports, especially from Iowa. After opening at 1c decline to 1-4c gain, December $1.16 1-2 to 1.17, the market showed slight general upturns, but later receded 2 cents or more under yesterday's finish.

Oats followed corn. Starting unchanged to 1-2c higher, December 57 1-4 to 57 3-8, the market rose a little further and then went below yesterday's latest figures.

Provisions were without significant change.

Wheat prices closed easy, 1-2 to 3-4c net lower, September $1.27 1-4 to 1.27 3-8 and December $1.32 3-8 to 1.32 1-2.

The corn close was weak, 3-4 to 1 3-4c net lower, December $1.15 7-8 to 1.16.

J. W. DAVIS TO SPEAK AT SEAGIRT FRIDAY

LOCUST VALLEY, N. Y. — John W. Davis remained at his home here today so as to give more of his attention to the subject matter of the message he is to deliver to the Democracy of Ohio on August 26 and to study matters of campaign financing and organization submitted to him by those of his advisers having that work in hand.

The speech the Democratic presidential candidate is to deliver at Seagirt, New Jersey, Friday, is completed. It will be his first since President Coolidge delivered his acceptance address and for that reason is regarded by many as one of the most important Davis will deliver during the campaign.

Those friends to whom he had disclosed the text declare that it is an even stronger effort than that at Clarksburg on the occasion of the notification.

HARRISON RETURNED TO SENATE BY DEMOCRATS

JACKSON, Miss.—Mississippi's delegation in the next congress will include one new member. He will be State Senator W. M. Whittington of Greenville, who will represent the third congressional district.

Democrats in the primary yesterday returned to the senate their senior senator, Pat Harrison and apparently the three congressmen who offered for renomination. Four unopposed members of the house were recently declared the party nominees.

Dmocratic endorsement in this state is equivalent to election.

HAY FEVER

PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY NEW DISCOVERY

Eyes Quit Itching. Nose Stops Running and Burning. Makes Life Worth Living. Money Refunded If It Fails.

At last! Real relief for hay fever. The long search by scientific men for something that would counteract the effect of pollen has resulted in a new discovery. It is now possible to go through the hay fever season and hardly know that you ever had this terrible affliction.

Dia-pollin is the name of this new compound. It is absolutely harmless, contains no injurious or habit forming drugs.

Simply apply it in the nostrils and relief is instantly you realize that hay fever has met its master. The nose clears up and stops running. The fever is shut off. Breathing becomes easier. The redness and itching of the eyes cease and soon cease almost entirely. A few applications a day enable you to work in comfort and sleep in peace.

Hay fever is caused by pollen from weeds, vegetation etc, which irritates the mucous lining of the nose. Dia-pollin keeps the pollen infection under such control that it doesn't make your life miserable. It is easy to use and acts like magic.

"Gave Wonderful Relief"

I started using Dia-pollin for hay fever last July and obtained most wonderful relief. For the first time in many years I slept soundly during the hay fever season and was able to work with very little of the usual nose and eye trouble. I recommended Dia-pollin to several others and all of them received the same benefit I did.—C. H. Rogers, Mer. Salvation Army Hotel, 26 So. Capitol Ave., Indianapolis.

"My First Real Relief"

"I have found complete relief through Dia-pollin all through the Rose and Hay Fever seasons. My suffering used to be very severe. Dia-pollin cleared my head, stopped the itching of the eyes, made my breathing easy and in fact made it possible for me to work and get a good night's sleep. It is the first real relief I ever found and has had no bad effects.—Wm. Walker, 736 Edgemont Ave., Indianapolis.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY

You can try Dia-pollin without risking a penny. If it fails to please you, your money will be promptly refunded. No red tape about it—try Dia-pollin at our risk. At your druggist or send $2 for package by mail prepaid with our money back guaranty, endorsed by a leading Indianapolis bank.
